Future Faculty Fellows Workshop for UW Postdocs

Postdoctoral fellows in their second year or beyond are invited to the Future Faculty Fellows Workshop (April 30 in person; May 7, 14, and 21 virtually).

This workshop prepares postdoctoral fellows to apply for academic positions in the biosciences. It provides practical guidance on preparing competitive job applications, gaining teaching and mentoring experience, and strengthening communication and job-search skills. Topics are led by experienced faculty from the UW School of Medicine, partner institutions, and workshop alumni.

For more information, visit Future Faculty Fellows Workshop - Research & Graduate Education. Apply by April 20, 2026.
