

PHARMACOLOGY FRIDAY JULY 10, 2026

Did You Know?

Did you know the Department of Pharmacology was established in 1946 as one of the founding departments of the UW School of Medicine?

The department's first chair, Dr. James M. Dille, also served as Assistant Dean of the School of Medicine. During his 26 years as chair, he helped build the department into a nationally recognized leader in pharmacology research and education, with strengths in neuropharmacology, cardiovascular pharmacology, and toxicology.

Stay tuned as we continue exploring the people and milestones that have shaped our department's nearly 80-year history.

Graduate Student Fees Due Today, July 10th

Please remember to pay any outstanding fees by Friday, July 10th, to avoid late payment charges being added to your account. Taking care of your balance by the deadline can help prevent unnecessary fees and account holds.

Summer is a great time to step away from your desk or lab bench for a few minutes during the day. Whether it's taking a short walk around campus, grabbing a coffee with a colleague, or simply getting some fresh air outside, those small breaks can make a real difference.

Taking even a few minutes away from your work can help reset your focus, boost energy, and improve productivity—especially during busy summer months when research projects and deadlines are keeping everyone busy. Give yourself permission to pause and recharge when you can.

Training Reminder: Hazing Prevention 101™

Please complete the required annual training, Hazing Prevention 101™: It's Everyone's Responsibility – Faculty & Staff Edition (FY27). The due date is August 15, 2026. This training is part of UW's commitment to fostering a safe and respectful community and fulfills a statewide requirement under Sam's Law (H.B. 1751).
