A Big Thank You to Our Grants Team

A special thank you to Sarah and Grace for all they do to support our department's research. In 2026 alone, they submitted 14 new grant proposals in Cycle 1 and 30 in Cycle 2—all while continuing to manage active grants and the many post-award requirements that come with them. Their work behind the scenes keeps proposals moving, deadlines on track, and our research programs supported. We truly appreciate everything they do!

Fall Research & Compliance Reminders

As we begin a new academic year, this is a good time to review a few UW requirements and resources.

Faculty and researchers are reminded to obtain required approval for outside professional work and to register UW-related international travel. Researchers planning international collaborations or activities can also use UW Research Security's International Activities Consultation for guidance on federal requirements and UW policies. The consultation can help identify potential research security considerations before moving forward with an international activity or collaboration.

NIH Cycle 3 Grant Submission Reminder

NIH Cycle 3 is underway. If you plan to submit a proposal, please complete the Grant Intake Form as soon as possible. For standard proposals, submit the form just over one month before the sponsor deadline. In the Notes section, include the sponsor institute and indicate whether the proposal includes a subaward.

Key NIH reminders:

- Use the updated Data Management & Sharing Plan format.
- Complete required research security training within 12 months of submission.
- Use SciENCv Common Forms for Biosketches and Other Support.
- Review NIH proposal submission limits.
- Trainees can find fellowship resources on the NIH Individual Fellowships page.
